RE: Protocol for Zoom Hearings

Counsel,

Please be advised that Zoom hearings are official court proceedings. As such, the court expects counsel's attire to conform with GNLR 18.1(b) ("All attorneys appearing in open court shall be suitably dressed. Minimum acceptable dress for male practitioners shall consist of a dress shirt, necktie, dress slacks, socks and shoes.").

In addition, the court expects counsel's Zoom background to be appropriate, keeping in mind that it is a court proceeding. All counsel appearing (both local counsel and pro hac vice) shall include their full name on the video and shall appear by video throughout the hearing, even if counsel is not actively speaking. The court expects all counsel appearing before the court to behave accordingly, as if they are physically in the courtroom.

Si Yu'us Ma'ase,

Frances M. Tydingco-Gatewood
Chief Judge
